Here's How My Expertise Can Help You...

Elegant Consulting also brings you...

My Exhaustive, Impartial Selections of every style of clothing, from custom-made suits to off-the-rack blazers ... from designer made shirts to shoes and ties.

In each category, I'll suggest several different products to single out the best you can buy anywhere, and tell you how to make sure that they last a lifetime.

These recommendations go way beyond “what's in fashion or simply looks good on you.” In each selection, I tell you precisely what distinguishes the superb from the excellent from the merely good.

The benefits of knowing these distinctions are many. You'll greatly enhance your sense of style. You'll have more confidence and pride in what you wear. Not least of all, you'll avoid wasting money.

For example, you'll never again waste money on clothes that just sit in your closet gathering dust, because they just don't sit right anymore. From now on, you'll be able to buy the very best with each purchase.

Care and Tips for the Clothes I Recommend. For example, I'll tell you not only which clothes suit you best. But I'll also tell you exactly how to care for your new suit—with simple tips from master dry-cleaners—so it will absolutely dazzle your family and friends each and every time you slip it on. And for your shirts and ties, I'll tell you the best way to care for them so they last a lifetime.

Creative Clothing Ideas. I'll also help you dress with elegance, style, and most of all, FUN! Whatever the occasion, I'll tell you how to dress to feel confident and distinguished.

Whether you are dressing for the office, going out to dinner (with that “Special Someone”), socializing with clients or headed to the theatre or a VIP nightclub...we will make sure you are dressed for success...leave a lasting impression on the people you meet.

My Highly Personalized Wardrobe Recommendations. I've developed a simple approach that makes it mercifully easy for you to choose the perfect wardrobe, regardless of how much or how little you know about fashion.

From now on, with just a few simple guidelines, you'll be choosing clothes with irreproachable good taste in any situation. Even more important, you'll know how to choose clothes that enhance your best features and make sure you stand out from the crowd.

So you risk absolutely nothing—unless, of course, you let this chance slip by, in which case you'll be missing the opportunity to create a brand new look for yourself.

Elegant Consulting Services will always remain small and exclusive for two reasons...

First, I deal with a small, select group of manufacturers and tailors. Most are family-run businesses that proudly produce the best quality garments in the U.S. Naturally; they are too small for the “mass market distributors” to scout or bother with, which is another reason why you can't find these very distinct clothes in department stores.

Second, my services must remain small and exclusive because I have no big corporate staff behind me...your consultation is handle by me personally (and my hand-picked staff), ensuring the best possible shopping experience for you. I stand in sharp, lonely contrast to the major retail stores who have forgotten what true customer service is all about.

It's as if you now have a friend who can provide you the best possible prices on custom-made clothes in existence, the very clothes that most business professionals will never get to experience—unless they are a fellow client of Elegant Consulting.

In effect, you will commission me to be your personal fashion consultant whose charge is to bring to your home or office some of the finest, most carefully crafted garments you have the good fortune to own.
